Radius Choice Disability Income Insurance

Own Occupation Rider

Massachusetts Mutual Life Insurance Company – MassMutual®

NOT FOR USE IN NEW MEXICO.

MassMutual is a leading provider of disability income insurance to physicians.

Our premier individual disability income (DI) insurance product, Radius Choice, provides a monthly benefit to replace a portion of your income if you become too sick or hurt to work and offers options to tailor coverage for your specific needs as a physician.

And when tailoring your coverage, one of the most important features to consider is the definition of disability. This determines what must occur in order to qualify for disability benefits.

Insurance companies have different definitions as to what qualifies as disabled.

While there are several definitions of disability, an "own occupation" definition can provide important protection to physicians.

What is "own occupation"?

In general, an Own Occupation definition of disability means you cannot perform the main duties of your regular occupation due to sickness or injury, and you are working in another occupation.

This definition will allow you to be employed in another occupation if you are unable to work in your own occupation, without jeopardizing your disability benefit payments while on claim.

Hypothetical Example:

Kristin is a surgeon and purchased a disability income insurance policy with the own occupation definition of disability.

Kristin becomes totally disabled with a hand injury and can no longer perform surgeries.

She begins receiving disability benefits.

Two years later, she uses her medical training to teach others as a college professor. Because Kristin purchased a DI policy with an own occupation definition of disability, she continues to receive disability benefits while also receiving her professor salary.

This example is for illustrative purposes only. This information does not, nor is it intended to, alter or supersede the provisions of the policy. Every claim must be reviewed individually, with consideration given to the particular facts, the provisions of the policy, and state laws applicable to each situation.

At MassMutual, we know the importance of income protection, especially within the medical community. Our Own Occupation Rider, available for an additional cost on a Radius Choice policy, provides you with an own occupation definition of disability.

After satisfying the applicable waiting period (elimination period in FL), the Own Occupation Rider provides benefits when the insured cannot perform the main duties of his/her occupation due to sickness or injury; is working in another occupation; is under a doctor's care; and has a disability that begins while the Own Occupation Rider is in force.

Your Occupation is your regular profession(s) or business(es) at the start of disability for which you receive or can receive remuneration.

The Own Occupation Rider also has language clarifying the definition of Occupation for physicians who have narrowed their work to a specialty:

If your Occupation is that of a medical or dental specialty, and the main duties of that specialty are verified by the Billing Codes¹ for the 12 months before Disability began, we will deem that specialty to be your Occupation.

This makes MassMutual a great choice for physicians looking to secure their income with disability income insurance.
